

JUNE 23, 2010 - Expert System announced its COGITO Monitor product is available as a platform. CRIBIS, a CRIF financial company in Europe, is partnering with Expert System to offer COGITO Monitor platform to businesses looking to flag and identify consumer sentiment during economically tumultuous times.

Here's the release on Marketwire: <http://www.marketwire.com/press-release/Expert-Systems-COGITO-Monitor-Available-as-Semantic-Platform-1280723.htm>.

Expert System has also started a consortium called Semantic Valley to bring the semantic Web to the masses. Expert is looking for more companies to join the cause: <http://www.marketwire.com/press-release/Expert-System-Introduces-Semantic-Valley-Consortium-1280722.htm>.

Also, just a heads up—we just found out Expert System won an American Business Award for New Product or Service of the Year for its updated COGITO® Focus product. http://www.stevieawards.com/pubs/awards/403_2630_20419.cfm.
